- Ichio Usui was born in Yamagata and raised in Hyogo, Japan in 1983. He graduated Japan Institute of Photography and Film.
- He had liked writing and drawing a picture since he was a little, so he had traveled around to draw pictures for two years. Then he had worked as a sales and system engineer at System Integrator. While he changed the job and started working as a manager at a IT company, he started taking photographs. After that, he attended a special photograph school and learned about photograph in earnest while working. He started his career as a photographer after graduating from school. He has worked together with his wife as "Chika & Ichio Usui" since 2016. He has been traveling to Asian countries with her and taking photographs to broaden the range of his knowledge and activities from 2017. Now he has been believing in the power of photo and doing creations of photographs.
